School Uniform Alert

Just a reminder that sweatshirts children plan on wearing during the day, need to follow school uniform colors (Blue only). Also, please write your child's name on the tag. (Blue)

Science and Social Studies

Social Studies— Students will continue studying the voting process. We will help teach children how to make smart-educated choices while playing classroom games and taking part in different activities. These activities will help lead them in making their choice for our school wide student voting campaign.

Science— Students will be preparing for their properties assessment. Students will be assessed on their five senses, water and ice, and the different ways that objects can be sorted (size, color, shape, and texture).

ELA/Communication

Story “Boots for Beth” by Lisa Campbell Ernst

Students will read a story called “Boots for Beth”. This fantasy story shows the idea of friendship. When Beth's boots are too small for her, all of her friends try to help. Students will also work with the /th/ digraph. Writing workshop will consist of different activities this week: poems, story responses, and continued work on sentence structure.
