Science

Columbus

Social Studies: This week we will study about Christopher Columbus and his adventure to America. This will help the students relate the information learned about planet Earth in science, as they discover some of the facts and adventures of Christopher Columbus and his quest to prove the Earth was round. Earth Assessment will be on given on Tuesday.

ELA/Communication

Story "Helping Out" by George Ancona

Students will read a story called "Helping Out". The story is a photo essay where the pictures and text show many ways children can be helpful in different ways. The story also focuses on the rewards of helpfulness. Students will also be working with the r- controlled spelling pattern.
